

QUALITY POLICY

Business Excellence

Wattyl is committed to supplying products that are positioned and delivered with customers and consumers best interests at heart. We seek to understand our customers' current and future requirements to provide quality surface coatings at the desired delivery service and cost.

To achieve this we work together with each other and our suppliers and we are committed to quality in the design, production and delivery of our products and services. Using measurement, feedback, reviews and the skills and talents of our employees, objectives are set for quality with continuous improvement built into this cycle.

We are proudly certified to ISO 9001:2008.
