tips from our experts

how to get white right

White; so popular and yet such a mystery to most. The right white can look flawless, fresh and finished. The wrong white can look drab and dated, and it seems there is an infinite number of hues and shades to choose.

Understand the Undertone

Look closely at the permanent fixtures in your space and get up close and personal with them. Which colours lie beneath? Are they warm or cool?

Study and Compare

Visit a Watty Paint Centre for white swatches that have a similar undertone and take them home to compare. Look at them against each other, against your Caesarstone® samples and even a plain sheet of white paper. Look in different lights, at different times of the day. You'll start to see the undertone and get a feel for which sit harmoniously.

Test the Best

Purchase a test pot or two of the colours you feel most confident about and paint them onto a piece of white card, or on your wall. Watch them, live with them, accessorise them, light them and make sure you're truly happy with your final choice.

Study Caesarstone® - Find Your Finish

Caesarstone® has so many amazing finishes. Some colours have a very distinct look or style, such as modern industrial, others are more subtle in colour and finish and will enhance several architectural styles.
